(By Associated Press)
Buffalo, N. Y., April 7.—Five hundred switchmen on the night shift of all railroads entering Buffalo with the exception of the Erie and Pennsylvania lines went on strike last night and today practically tied up all freight in and out of the city. The day shift did not report at the usual time and it is believed the strike will be general. Officials of the switchmen's union said the strike was unauthorized and that they had been unable to secure any definite information as to why the men went out. Railroad officials believed that the movement was in sympathy with the Chicago strike.

15,000 Railroad Men Quit Work in Sympathy With Switchmen's Strike Called a Week Ago--Loyal Union Men Are Termed "Scabs"

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, April 7.—Representations of 5000 members of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers employed in the Chicago switch district today voted to join the unauthorized switchmen's strike called nearly a week ago. The vote of the engineers and firemen came in the face of predictions of officials of the brotherhood of railway trainmen and switchmen's union of North America with which the striking switchmen are affiliated, that by Saturday the strike would be broken up. Loyal union men rushed here from other cities. The engineers and firemen declared they would not work with "scabs" as they termed loyal union men and also demanded an increased wage. Meanwhile, it was reported, supplies of certain food and fuel were beginning to run low in Chicago and that nearly 20,000 employees had been thrown out of work at the stock yards. The strikers claimed early today that 10,000 men already were out in the district and that by night 25,000 would be on strike.

GERMANS GET "WARM" RECEPTION IN BRITAIN

London, April 5.—Large numbers of German and other undesirable who were deported from England in the war have managed to make their way back to London but have encountered with recollections when their identity has been discovered. They managed to cross from the continent by working their way as sailors on tramp steamers to northern English and Scottish ports.

These Germans who have come back to England to take up business again find it a hard row to hoe, says the Evening Standard. One German business man gave it up and returned to his fatherland after being refused admission to five London hotels. He found rooms in a Hackneybury boarding house, but two days later the other boarders discovered him and notified the manager they could not live under the same roof with a German; and he was turned out.

A German butcher in a London suburb was prevented by his neighbors from reopening his old store the other day although he had lived in England for forty years, and there were many similar cases.

Neither captain or crew of the steamer Spick, the first German cargo ship to enter the Firth of Forth since August, 1914, were allowed ashore at Methil, and in defense to local feeling, the vessel did not display the German flag.

On the other hand, a "revival" of "Einhausel" at Covent Garden Opera recently drew a crowded and appreciative audience of society people. The cast, however, was wholly English.

LODGE DENIES THAT HE FAVORS HOOVER

Washington, April 6.—Senator Lodge today denied reports that he favored Herbert C. Hoover as second choice candidate for the republican nomination at Chicago. The Bay State senator reiterated his intention to propose the name of Governor Coolidge should the latter wish him to do so. More than that Senator Lodge has no plans to divulge at this time.

It is fair to say that Senator Lodge shares the views of a great many republican "leaders" that it will be impossible to nominate Hoover at Chicago because of his lack of party record. They regard Hoover as "very vulnerable" politically. Moreover they anticipate a convention run on the usual lines with respectable defection to the independent element in the party, but a fixed resolve to select a candidate of the "right" in the week type, who will not keep senators up nights worrying about "what he is going to do tomorrow."

MANCHESTER FACING FINANCIAL TROUBLE

Manchester, N. H., April 6.—Within a few months the city will face the most perplexing dilemma since its incorporation. The city has authorized $175,000 for a new school house program, while a new bond authorization of $175,000 for two bridges is expected today. With the city already bonded for $1,016,522 and with the tax limit restricting the bonding of an amount not exceeding $3,450,000 only $553,078 remains for the carrying out of the school street construction program.

FRANCE WANTS PRODUCTS MARKED

Paris, April 7.—Importers of American machinery have become aroused by the prospect that the French Parliament may enact a law requiring that all foreign products, raw or manufactured, imported into France must be marked or labeled with the name of the country showing where it was produced. Importers of American, Canadian and English harvesting machines say this law would seriously affect them and that it would be impossible to mark as required all the spare parts of machines shipped from those countries to France.

The American and British Chambers of Commerce and the Importers' Union have appealed to the Finance Minister to make an exception in favor of harvesting and sewing machines. The law is still pending in Parliament, the two houses having failed thus far to agree on its provisions.

HOME RULE BILL HUMBLED SAYS DEVLIN

Dublin, April 7.—The government's Home Rule Bill for Ireland was denounced by Joseph Devlin as a "humbler to throw dust in the eyes of the people of America and elsewhere" in a speech he delivered here recently. Mr. Devlin declared that it was not a bill for Home Rule nor a plan to settle the Irish question, but for the permanent division of Ireland into two sections. The best thing the government could do, he said, was to drop the bill, resign office and "let the enlightened judgment of the British electorate give Ireland what she wanted."

T. P. O'Connor called the measure "an outrage and an insult" and said that "a more impudent, arrogant, insulting, lying proposal was never made by any body of men in the world." He characterized the action of the government in suggesting a repeal of the Home Rule Act of 1914 as a "more perfidious breach of treaty with Belgium."

BRING BLAINE'S BODY HOME

Augusta, April 5.—After many years the body of James G. Blaine is to rest in the soil of the state of Maine. Arrangements have just been made which assure the removal of the body early in the coming summer from Rock Creek cemetery in Washington, where interment took place in 1893 to a beautiful spot on the crest of Whittier Hill, overlooking this city and the valley of the Kennebec. The body of Mr. Blaine will also be brought here and presumably that of the son, Walter Blaine who is buried beside his parents in Washington.

After seven years' death of Mr. Blaine there has been periodical agitation for the body of the body to be removed for permanent burial and for the erection of a fitting memorial above the grave. It has always been well understood that Mr. Blaine had himself expressed a preference for burial here, and his husband for the site now designated selected was often manifested. It is a place where he frequently went on Sunday rambles, and the view that it commands has few equals in all the length and breadth of the "Imperial Kennel." That he loved and praised it in his public addresses. It is just beyond Forest Grove cemetery, where stands the headstone above the grave of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine's first son, who died in infancy.

For many years the Blaine heirs have owned a three-acre lot just above the cemetery, overlooking Whittier Hill. This old site stand upon it and it will be easy to convert the spot into an ideal setting for the Blaine tomb and memorial—actually a part of the old Blaine cemetery and yet apart by itself as a shrine for those who honor the memory of the greatest figure among all the leaders that Maine has contributed to American public life. It is already determined that one feature of the plot will be a stone seat that will command the beautiful view and that Mr. Blaine often visited the spot to enjoy.

After Mr. Blaine's death in Washington in January 27 years ago it was expected that the body would remain there only as a temporary arrangement and that permanent interment would be here in his home city. One thing another, however, has delayed the removal. When Mrs. Blaine's daughter, Mrs. Beale, gave the Blaine homestead to the state as a memorial to her son, then, Walter Blaine Beale, who was killed in France, to be used as a residence for Maine's governors and for other public purposes, the resolution of acceptance and transfer of the homestead passed expressed the hope that the family would give the state permission to bring the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine from Washington to Augusta and erect a suitable memorial above them.

Three days, Governor Mellen has

Mrs. Beale and the latter's attorney, Normal J. Russell of this city, have been in conference and as a result, it is now announced positively that the removal will be made this year, probably in June. The exercises in connection with this final welcome home to the great White House visitor August 1st will be a notable incident in the program of Blaine's centenary year.

NAT. PHYSICAL EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

Washington, April 7.—With public hearings on the Pess-Capper Physical Education Bill set for April 15, many organizations and individuals in various parts of the United States are supporting this measure.

Arthur Capper, United States Senator from Kansas, and former Governor of that State, who introduced the bill in the upper chamber of Congress, is engaged in universal military training. He is representative of the House of Representatives, and the House Committee on Education, and who sponsored the bill in the lower chamber, believes military training has a beneficial effect upon those who participate, but holds that the latter plan is too expensive to be started this year.

Dr. E. A. Peterson, director of the Department of Health Service of the American Red Cross, reports that he is planning cooperation between his organization and others interested in the movement of extending physical education.

That France looks to the United States for guidance in physical education is shown by a letter just received by the National Physical Education Society of Washington, D. C. who is supporting the Pess-Capper bill. Professor J. P. Langlois, member of the Academy of Medicine and in charge of the Cours d'Education Physique, writes that "we are getting ready to establish a similar organization here in France, and we would be very pleased to be able to profit by the experience of our American friends."

St. L. Bellamy, State Superintendent of Schools, in Georgia, made the following statement:

"In my opinion, this measure will show conclusively that we feel as anxious to safeguard the health of the American child as that of the American boy."

The United States has spent large sums for the eradication of cholera and other diseases of swine.

The National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations, the Council of Jewish Women, the National League of Women Voters, and the College Physical Directors Society have joined the physical educational movement. A society of Physical Education has been formed in Tennessee. Prof. John H. Bender of the University of Tennessee is president.

Mrs. Jane Decker Ripplin, director of the Girl Scouts, writing from national headquarters in New York City states that the organization "heartily endorses legislation which will promote physical education throughout the United States."

A state official in Ohio reports that it would take $2,000,000 yearly to reach all the children in that state. This sum, he believes, would have to be spent for instruction, physical examination, and nurse visitation alone, without including the cost of gymnasiums and equipment. The Pess-Capper bill would appropriate $10,000,000 for the first year. The fundamental aim of the bill is to give every child between the ages of six and eighteen years the opportunity for a periodic health examination, practical instruction in the principles of healthful living, and training in physical activities which insure a high degree of resistance to disease.

Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Education in Texas, writing to the National Physical Education Service, which is supporting the Pess-Capper bill, emphasizes the need of preserving the autonomy of the state. The bill has been "drawn with this end in view. Superintendent Blanton pointed out that Texas has no special fund for physical education and that an adequate plan of reaching all the children in the state would call for $2,000,000. Reports from all parts of the country in fact show that the problem is deep-seated. The appropriation proposed to be made under the provisions of the Pess-Capper bill would initiate a nationwide system of physical education, with the states raising half the money spent within their borders.

"The passage of his bill would be of incalculable value to our state," wrote Superintendent Blanton, "if we were left free to use the money, under the direction of our state board."

Resolutions have just been passed by the Association of American Physicians in favor of the Pess-Capper bill.

The Salt Lake City convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs adopted a resolution endorsing the physical educational movement, and the attention of all Rotary Clubs has been called to the bill by the national headquarters. The chairman of the Boys Work Department of the International Association points out that "those who are in favor of universal military training and those who are opposed agree that universal physical education would be of great permanent benefit to the country."

GENTLE SPRING ALL DRESSED UP IN WHITE

Portsmouth is enjoying a real touch of winter today. Snow, which started falling just before four o'clock this morning, covered the ground to the depth of four inches before noon today. It was a northeast storm and during the early morning hours was most severe.

A snow storm at this time of year may be a novelty in these times, but read this taken from the Portsmouth Journal of April 3, 1847: "On March 31st of this year six inches of snow fell. It remained on the ground nearly a week and the sleighing was good. On April 7, 1943, Mr. Plagg came from Exeter to Portsmouth in a sleigh."

GERMANS CLAIM CONSENT TO USE OF TROOPS

Had to Intervene in the Ruhr
Region to Save Country.

(By Associated Press.)
Berlin, April 6.—The German note dealing with the conditions in the Ruhr districts, state that grave reports of conditions in the Rhinish Westphalian region in March caused the German government to ask if they may send a limited number of troops to that region. The German government maintaining that the troops moved out at a specific time. The French government agreed on the condition that the allied troops be allowed to occupy certain German cities with the same number of troops if the German troops were not moved in the time stated. It appeared from the note that the allied at first agreed, but the highly disturbed condition make it necessary for military intervention, for the protection of life and property and that the serious economic life of the German nation was threatened. The German government is responsible for the safety and liberty of its people and there should not be a delay.

Berlin, April 6.—Chancellor Mueller declared that M. Millerand the French premier had given formal consent to German military activities in the Ruhr district on the assumption that the operations would not take more than a few weeks, but that French generals dealing to make political capital out of the affair had changed him. The Chancellor said that the action of the French premier was given aid and encouragement to the Spartans and actually interfering with the peace of the world, and was a type of French militarism.

MEN DEPART AND WOMEN COME OVER

Female Immigrants Outnumber Males Two to One.

New York, April 6.—Foreign war widows, who are dependents of their governments, and other industrial non-producers, mostly women, constitute the larger part of the immigrants now coming to this country, according to a statement issued here yesterday by the inter-racial council of which Coleman Du Pont is chairman.

Of the total immigration over a period of several months, the immigration officials of this port state that women and girls have formed not less than 60 per cent and that in the last few weeks they have outnumbered the men two and sometimes three to one. So marked has been the relative increase of women immigrants that the fact appears to be well established, the council declares, that some of the foreign governments are enforcing a policy which encourages and stimulates emigration of women, but which places obstacles in the way of able-bodied male workers who wish to come to the United States.

Meanwhile emigration from America is made up almost entirely of men who have given up employment in factories, mills and mines to return to their homeland, taking with them savings estimated conservatively at $2000 for each emigrant. Since the signing of the armistice 275,000 emigrants have left the country, and authorities believe that approximately 1,125,000 more will leave when passport regulations and transportation conditions permit.

PALMER FIXED SUGAR PRICE FOR LOUISIANA

Washington, April 6.—Investigation of the alleged action of Attorney General Palmer in fixing the price of Louisiana cane sugar at 17 and 18 cents a pound opened in a most dramatic way before the House sub-committee on the Judiciary today. Politics was injected into the proceedings within half an hour. The Democratic members of the committee, instead of permitting George Holden Tinkham of Boston, the first witness, to make his preliminary statement without interruption, compelled him to discuss irrelevant hypothetical questions and to give his views of the powers of President Wilson to fix the price of sugar and to purchase the Cuban crop. They led the witness from one question to another to build up their case for Mr. Wilson and his chief of the Department of Justice. The advantage politically was with the Administration supporters during most of the morning. Mr. Tinkham scored in one instance, however, saying that it was his purpose, when given the opportunity to lay data before the committee, which he said would prove that the action taken by Mr. Palmer in the Louisiana case and the refusal of Mr. Wilson to buy the Cuban crop, cost the American people $20,000,000.

The investigation promises to produce information of great importance. Mr. Tinkham in opening, attempted to lay the foundation for a broad investigation, but Messrs. Whaley of South Carolina and Summers of Texas, propounded so many questions and were so skillful in their cross-examination that he had made little headway at the morning session.

Palmer's Statement and Despatch
"The witness ran into the record a statement which Mr. Palmer submitted to the House some months ago that he neither made, assented to nor approved of Louisiana sugar. He then read a telegram, which the Attorney General sent to the district attorney at New Orleans, saying in effect, that the Attorney considered the agreement that law officials had reached with the producers to charge seventeen and eighteen cents was high, but that he concurred in it. The telegram also said that all contracts for higher figures should be abrogated and that if they were not, prosecution would be instituted."

"Although the Attorney General says he did not assent, approve or make the price, I submit that he could have done it in no more complete way than he did in this telegram," commented the witness.

"I claim that his telegram was the fixing of a price. I claim that he had no authority to fix the price or to establish a price. I claim that the people as a result lost money."

SHOOTS HIS FIANCEE, THEN TRIES SUICIDE

Whitman, April 7.—Edward H. Ripley, 28, of 420 Main street, Dedgewater, shot his sweetheart, Miss Lillian Hatchfield, through the abdomen last night and then, turning the revolver, shot himself through the hip, while sitting at her home, 119 Broad street, Whitman.

The girl was rushed to the Brockton hospital, where an operation was performed, and the bullet removed. Hospital authorities stated that she has an even chance of recovery. Ripley was only slightly wounded, was taken to the Whitman police station and locked up. The reason for the shooting is not known.

Miss Hatchfield is employed as a saleswoman in the Cassidy military shop, Washington street, Boston and is unusually attractive. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatchfield. Ripley has been paying attentions to her.

WIFE FALSE TO SOLDIER

Brockton, April 7.—Leon W. Jefferson of Carver, in presenting his bill for divorce from his wife, Edna P. Jefferson, told Judge E. S. Bishop in Superior Court Tuesday that while he was serving the colors his wife betrayed him, and proved false to her marriage vows. Coming home, he continued, he learned the identity of the man who had broken up his home and proceeded to "beat him up." Judge Bishop promptly granted a decree nisi and the custody of his three minor children.

Jefferson was overseas 16 months. During his absence his wife and another man were arrested on statutory grounds and this record was introduced by the libellant in support of his charge of infidelity. They were married in 1909 in Middleboro, and lived thereafter in Carver.

WARSAW MOST CROWDED CITY IN EUROPE

Warsaw, April 7.—Warsaw is humming with war activity and is crowded to its very doors with hordes of poverty-stricken refugees from the arena for which the Poles and Lithuanians are fighting. Travelers say it is the most crowded city in eastern Europe. The population is estimated to have increased from 800,000 to 1,300,000 since the world war began.

Everywhere there are officers and soldiers. Military automobiles, tractors and various other vehicles of war traverse the streets all day and most of the night. The city life is as bright and gay as ever, but the restaurants and theatres close at 10 p. m. to save food, light and labor. The refugees from the war-stricken areas began streaming into the city about a year ago, and have been coming ever since hoping to find food and places to sleep. The problem of providing for them has baffled the city officials.

In the poorer districts, basements, which for generations were used for storage purposes have been used for refugees' sleeping quarters. In instances 15 to 20 persons, and even more, sleep on a basement floor, on straw. Others have found shelter in stables or in buildings intended for schools. Many of these refugees are women, with children who have come out of the east virtually without funds. During the day these people are partly supplied with food by the municipality or some of the welfare organizations. Many exist only by begging.

Warsaw's tenements, always crowded as New York's east side has been for years, are jammed with humanity as never before, and during the severe winter weather when there was an epidemic of influenza here old men and women and children died by the hundreds every day in this kind of a poor.

City officials see no relief in sight until warmer weather comes, when they hope the people will gradually begin leaving for the country to work on farms.

Significant Endorsement.

Only recently this paper commented on the trend toward centralization and paternalism in this country, and on previous occasions it has dealt with the subject in a manner to emphasize its conviction that the drift is in the wrong direction and will lead to serious results if not checked before it has gone too far. The readers of this paper are familiar with its stand on this question and will consequently be interested in what Governor Lowden of Illinois said in an address a few days ago on the same subject. It was this:

"The tendency toward centralization in government already has reached the danger point. The municipalities are ceasing to function as well as they have in the past. They are calling for help from the states more and more, and the states are leaning more and more heavily upon the federal government. The inevitable result, if the practice is continued long enough, will be the breaking down of local government in this country."

Governor Lowden's thought is identical with that which has been expressed in these columns, and his language is very similar. It would be folly for this paper to pretend that it is not flattered and gratified by such pronounced endorsement, from such a source, of its position on a highly important question, a question which should be given attention without further delay.

The country knows who Governor Lowden is. He is the chief executive of one of the great states of the Union, who in office has measured up to the requirements and attracted attention far beyond the bounds of his state. He is at present prominent among the candidates for presidential nomination on the Republican ticket and is not yet to be regarded as out of the running, notwithstanding the apparent lead of some of the others at this time.

Whether he is nominated or not, Governor Lowden is a man of commanding ability and unimpeachable character, and what he has to say on public questions is worthy of serious consideration.

And what he has to say on the subject of centralization in government should be seriously considered by every man who has the interests of the country at heart. Local self-government is one of the fundamentals—it might be said the chief fundamental—of the American system, and if it is ever abandoned the loss will be irreparable. The course in which we are now traveling means, if not checked in time, what Governor Lowden correctly says, "The breaking down of local government in this country."

It is time for the people to be giving thought to this matter. Liberty and civil rights are much easier lost than gained. Municipalities and commonwealths should exercise their prerogatives and cease looking to some higher source for direction and control in affairs of state and local concern.

The fact that Governor Lowden speaks out on this subject as he does shows that it is attracting attention in high quarters, and this is cause for gratification. It is to be hoped that agitation will develop and continue until the people are aroused to a sense of the duty that develops upon them and led to correct a tendency that is not only in the wrong direction, but positively dangerous.

More than one hundred members of Congress are planning to sail in July for the Orient to gather "first-hand information" on questions of legislative importance to this country in its present "world relations." But will such a mere handful of men be sufficient for the task?

This financial drive business appears to be contagious. The latest to be announced is one by the Hebrews, who will attempt to raise $3,500,000 to insure the survival of Judaism in America. And the chances are that they will go "over the top" without a whimper.

Viewed merely in the light of expediency, this picketing of the British Embassy in Washington by the friends of Irish freedom is a poor piece of business. There are in this country many good friends of Ireland's cause who will look with pronounced disfavor on such a proceeding.

Massachusetts now can have Sunday sports on the local option plan. There have been mighty changes in the Old Bay State since the landing of the Pilgrims.

It is announced that responsible bituminous coal operators will condemn any unwarrantable price increases. Now bring on the interpreters to tell us exactly what "unwarrantable" means. Differences of opinion are certain to arise.

Some good Massachusetts people are worrying over the disclosure that there are 76 towns in that state without resident physicians. And yet from those very communities come the most frequent reports of birthday celebrations by, and deaths of, nonagenarians.

On their 16th visit thieves took the last of 45 barrels of whiskey from a Maryland warehouse. What a powerful guard must have been maintained!

Mr. Bryan pronounces the defeat of the treaty a "colossal crime." And the great American jury is unable to agree in placing the blame.

PROBLEMS THAT
FACE CHURCHES
SHOWN ON SCREENMeeting in Interest of Interchurch Movement Held at the North Church.

Rev. Dr. Earle B. Cross, formerly pastor of the Central Ave. Baptist church of Dover, now with the Board of Promotion of the Baptist Northern Convention at New York, spoke last night at a mass meeting held at the North Congregational church in the interest of the Interchurch World Movement. He presented the home and foreign surveys of the great interdenominational movement, with finely colored stereoscopic slides, giving views of typical problems facing the churches of all the cooperating denominations, and charts showing the records of various denominations in typical lines of church and missionary work.

The problems of the church work among Indians in the West, the Mexicans, the lumbermen, negroes, immigrants, together with a graphic description of overworked and under-churched conditions throughout the country which the Interchurch Movement seeks to have remedied were clearly portrayed. Dr. Cross stated that ten million dollars are given away yearly in free service by the Protestant hospitals in the United States, and that 5000 are shut out daily from church hospitals because of lack of room.

Calling upon the residents of Portsmouth to do their share in remedying the situation in New Hampshire, where 66,000 Protestant children are growing up without the influence of the Sunday School, he pointed out the weakness of Protestantism in its program and achievements in religious education.

"One-half the people of the world have no doctor," said Dr. Cross. In New York City alone there are 7921 physicians, while in the vast territory of China, there are only 1000 doctors. Sixty-eight million children in China have no school privileges.

He made a stirring plea for the cooperation of the church forces in raising the financial budget of the Interchurch Movement of $340,777,572, $175,448,349 of which is to be raised this year. With a combined membership of 11,697,138 in the thirty-one cooperating denominations he argued the reasonable possibility of complete victory in this greatest campaign for church funds ever launched.

Dr. Alfred E. Bruce of New York was the final speaker. "Is it the dollar sign or the sign of the cross that is to be the symbol of America?" he asked, as he pointed out the danger of America's losing her reputation as an unselfish nation. "And knows how long she will maintain that position of unselfish leadership if things continue as they have been since the armistice?" said he.

The Interchurch World Movement was described as the extension or projection of a united movement of the cooperating denominations to survey the religious, social, moral and industrial needs of the world, to shape a program to meet those needs on a community and a world basis, and to provide the men, money and prayer to adequately meet the needs thus revealed. The Interchurch Movement has no budget of its own, it was explained. All the money to be raised will be divided among the thirty-one denominations. "Held in the Movement, on the basis of the amounts raised by the denominations themselves," Rev. E. W. Pond of Manchester, presided.

CHILDREN
TO HELP FIGHT
TUBERCULOSISState Association Will Pay for Poster Designs Which Indicate Benefit of Fresh Air.

Here's a chance for the school children of Portsmouth to have a hand in the fight against tuberculosis and for some of them to turn an honest penny while they are about it.

The New Hampshire Tuberculosis Association wants designs for posters, booklets, bookmarks, and cartoons. It wants to show the danger of spitting, sneezing and coughing without regard to the safety of others. It wants to indicate the benefits of fresh air, ventilation, sanitation and hygiene. And it wants some original drawings that shall present these ideas vividly. So it is asking the school children of the state to try their hand at drawing, and it offers to pay them for any work it accepts. There will be no prizes in the ordinary sense of the word, but any design that is regarded as good enough to be used will be paid for in cash, and the names of the artists will be made public when the drawings appear.

The contest is wide open to all the school children, and will continue until June 1. There are few conditions—only such as are necessary. The work must be original. It must be done with black ink on white paper 3½ by 11 inches in size, and the drawings must be mailed, first, to the New Hampshire Tuberculosis Association, Manchester, N. H.

The name, age and address of the contestant, also the school grade and teacher's name, must be given on the back of the drawing. "The double barred cross, made familiar in the T. B. Drive, must appear. No rejected work will be returned. Children who are interested in this contest are invited to consult their teachers, who will be supplied with all needed information, and upon the request of any teacher literature giving ideas concerning drawing will be sent to interested pupils. There is no time limit for the beginning of the contest and the children may go to it at any time.

PEOPLE'S
OPINIONSTax Rate Too High for Home
Builders.

Editor—I read an editorial in last night's Herald about the matter of the housing situation. As the Herald's slogan is "Boost Portsmouth," perhaps you might place before your readers this suggestion in regard to the exempting of new houses that would be built and occupied by the same person.

For example—the land shall not be exempted, thereby the city not losing anything in taxes. The house shall be exempt for a period of 5 years. On the 6th year a tax of $1,000, on the 7th $2,000 and add $1,000 each year until the valuation has been reached. If the house and land changes hands the full amount becomes taxable.

With this assistance from the city I am sure there would be a few more houses erected as the taxes amount to quite a sum and is a hard thing to overcome when a man builds money to build, but after the first five years it would not come so hard. The city would have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Yours for a "Boost."

WORLD SELFISH,
SAYS JOHN D. JR.Tells Interchurch Men That
Individualism Since War
Has Failed.

Washington, April 6.—A solution of the problems of the world is to be found "in the brotherhood of man, based on the fatherhood of God," John D. Rockefeller, Jr., declared tonight in an address at a dinner of officials of the Interchurch World Movement.

The ruthlessness with which Germany planned the world war, he said, was followed by a decided trend toward after individualism which, also, has proved a failure.

"The policy for the last few years seemed to be every man for himself—a selfish, personal policy, regardless of the brother, the neighbor and of the needs of humanity," Mr. Rockefeller said. "Today we are hearing from the great leaders of the nations, statements to the effect that the situation of the world's problems is to be found in the brotherhood of man and of nations. And we are hearing from men in various parts of the world saying that the Golden Rule must be applied in business, that only when the Golden Rule is applied in industry can there be co-operation good will, harmony and successful enterprise."

Mr. Rockefeller was the principal speaker at a meeting attended by a number of men interested in the campaign to raise $340,000,000. Robert Lansing, former secretary of state, presided. Dr. S. Earl Taylor, executive secretary of the organization and Dr. John E. Mott, told of the work undertaken for the "Flying Squadron," a group of men who have begun a tour with the object of raising the amount necessary to cover the budget.

Before the speaking began, Homer Bradbeaver, Billy Sunday's song leader, directed the audience in a "session of song," giving to the meeting something of the atmosphere of a revival.

The members of Company D, State Guard of Dover, were in this city Monday evening for a drill meeting at the armory.

U. S. DESTROYERS IN BLACK SEA

Constantinople, April 6.—American torpedo boat destroyers are at Beirut, Syria, Marsina, on the north coast of the Levant, Moudania, on the sea of Marmora, and Samsun, on the Black Sea to the west of Trebizond, for the purpose of trying to communicate with isolated relief workers in Anatolia and Syria. Numbers of these workers have not been heard from in many weeks.

CLASS RECEPTION.

MOOSEHEART LEGION IS ORGANIZED

A meeting was held in Moose hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of instituting a Mooseheart Legion, which will be an auxiliary to the Portsmouth Lodge of Moose and will include the wives, mothers and daughters of members of this order. The meeting was called to order by Joseph Walker, dictator of the Portsmouth Lodge, who was assisted by Frank Berry, who after reading the declaration of principles and administering the obligation, called Mrs. Hattie Harris to the chair and she presided at the meeting.

Immediately after accepting the gavel, Mrs. Harris called Mrs. James Wilbur to the secretary's desk. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Wilbur are both applicants of the Grand Regent, the former to act as regent of the Portsmouth Legion and the latter as secretary for the ensuing year. The nominations for other officers were then opened and left open until the next meeting, at which time the election will take place.

This organization starts off with a promising future, 31 of the 50 who have paid their application fee were present and it is expected 42 will be added to the list at the next meeting. The meetings will be held on the first and third Friday evenings of the month in Moose hall.

After an appropriate address delivered by W. S. Boate, the ladies adjourned to the banquet hall, where an elegant old style turkey dinner was served by members of the Portsmouth Lodge of Moose.

The charter of this lodge is now open and there is a campaign on for a thousand members. A class of 52 will be initiated on April 20.

Do You Serve Coon's Ice Cream

The wonderful demand for COON'S ICE CREAM throughout Northern New England taxed the output of the manufacturing plants at Burlington, Vt., White River Junction, Vt., and Lewiston, Me., to the limit of their capacity during 1919, and early in the season new business was refused because it was impossible to fill all dealer orders.

By the purchase from the Wheeler Ice Cream Co. of its Fifty people will take part in the show including 12 young women. An orchestra of 12 pieces will furnish music. The costumes for the show will be supplied by Hoadley Howe Company of Haverhill, Mass. The minstrel show will be followed by a dance until 1 a. m. Freeman's annex has also been hired for this occasion and will be used as a sort of cabaret. Refreshments will be served here and a jazz band furnish music. One of the novelties of the show will be the famous "Jazz Fellows" who will play and sing the latest songs.

The officers of the Atlantic Mutual Relief Association are as follows: President—C. E. Dawson. Vice President—Charles Pillsbury. Secretary—J. W. Tilton. Treasurer—J. G. McMillen. Directors—H. W. Delbridge, George H. W. H. Wilder, Lady A. Boring, Fred Donnell, William C. Derry.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH THE SPORT FAN

A composite selection of an official New England intercollegiate basketball team will be made by Dr. Oswald Tower of Andover Academy, editor of the rules book, in the next season's basketball issue composed of the college players of this past year. The All New England team will be selected from Williams, Worcester Tech, Brown, New Hampshire State, Tufts, Springfield, Boston University, Massachusetts Amherst, Amherst, Wesleyan, Boston College and Connecticut State. Dr. Tower has asked each college to make two selections, one not including their own players and one including them. He will pick the men having the largest number of votes. There were some mighty good basketball players in the New England colleges this past year and the selection will be interesting. It will be hard checking from such players as Campbell of Worcester Tech, Butler of New Hampshire State, Shuman of Springfield, Archibald of Springfield, Dwight of Brown, Marshman of Boston University, Eggebrecht of Springfield, Berry of Springfield, Davis of New Hampshire State, Anderson of New Hampshire State—Portland Express.

A number of the local sports are inclined to believe that Hammeing Hovio is due for a thrashing when he tackles Dusty Kroll, the soldier boxer, in this city April 15. Dusty has been boxing at top speed this season and should be able to give the Weebasket a tough argument.

Local basketball fans who have been howling for a game between the Portsmouth professionals and Dover will not have to take further. Because Manager Cragen has practically completed arrangements for a series between the two teams, the first game to be played in this city next Saturday night, the second game at Dover and if a third game is necessary it will be played on a neutral floor. Manager Cragen was planning on bringing either Fall River or the Shawmut of Boston here for the last game of the season, but the Dover manager made the inducement so strong, that "Heinie" decided to take them on. The Dover team will be strengthened for the event, while the locals will lineup with the same combination: Costello, Walter, Dolan, Hicks and Schanzler.

The Manchester baseball season will open with a double attraction on East Day, the Melbourn meeting St. Angelo's college team in the morning and the Amoskang's and 7-20's looking up in the afternoon. The Melbourn's recently made a ten-strike by signing up Eiche Del Bismonte, the big boy from Maine who is expected to be the twirling star of the New Hampshire college this spring. The Melbourns also have signed O'Doherty, the Boston college third baseman, Redmond, one of the Eastern league, and Harry Langley will be the catching. Dave Suroetto and Little Will help out Bismonte. The infield will have Sam Harris, Bob Murray, O'Doherty and Chuck McCarthy, with Walshe, O'Neil and others in the outfield. Some local fans caught for Newport last summer will do the work behind the bat for the Planters until Krayon gets home from Georgetown—Sled in Concord Patriot.

A fast team of basketball players with Henry Cragen as manager, will go to Concord Friday night where they will play the Capital City five. Cragen's players have a tough game ahead of them as the Concord boys have been playing a sensational ball and recently defeated St. Johnsbury, one of the best teams playing the game. The Portsmouth lineup will include P. Hicks, P. Hicks, Samized, Badger and Walter.

In matching Peter Sturgis and Ketonen Promoter Dow has booked what appears to be the best bout of the season. Sturgis has developed into a good man and during the past season has been defeated only once by Ketonen. The men wrestled at Worcester, Mass., and drew the largest crowd seen at a wrestling bout in that city for years. That Sturgis is a finished performer was shown by the ease with which he disposed of Bill Dryden in their match here last week.

At Portland, Me., tonight Walter Keytown will wrestle Harry Katron in a handicap match. Katron is a water-weight and Ketonen has agreed to throw him twice in one hour, which shows he should be able to do without much trouble.

The baseball season at New Hampshire State college will open next Saturday with Tufts at Medford and Coach Cowell has his men working hard in preparation for the opening game. At present the pitchers are in pretty good condition, having been working out indoors for the past several weeks.

The Herald "What do you know about Portsmouth?" column is attracting wide attention. This is one of the best features to be seen in a local paper for years and is in line with the Herald's policy to give its readers news of local interest.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Portsmouth Medical Society was held at the Hotel Buckingham on Tuesday evening with Dr. George E. Behder, the host. There was a large attendance of the members and Dr. A. C. Hoffenger had a very interesting paper on "Trombic Lesions of the Kidneys." This was followed by discussion.

BOWLING

The bowling team from Building 89 defeated the team from Building 80 at the Arcade alleys on Tuesday evening by a good margin. Kingsbury was high man with 314. The score:

TWO DIE IN CAPE COD AUTO CRASH

Machine Skids When Driver Attempts to Pass Another Car.

Wareham, Mass., April 7.—Two persons are dead and five others injured as the result of an automobile accident on the East Wareham road early Tuesday morning while they were returning from a dance at Marion. Joseph Swain, 25, a chauffeur, who instantly killed and Miss Dorothy Atley, 18, both of Marion, died of a fractured skull shortly afterward. The other occupants of the car were Misses Edith Cornell and Victoria Schwegel, John Schwegel and Harold Perry all of whom received cuts and bruises.

When Swain, who was driving, attempted to pass another machine, the car skidded, crashed through a fence, ran 50 feet along a field and came to a stop in a sandbank. Another automobile party passing by shortly after the accident discovered two of the girls crawling through the fence. Miss Atley was taken to the office of Dr. C. E. Gleason where she died a half hour later.

CATCHES YOUNG BANDIT AFTER REVOLVER DUEL

Officer Captures Sailor Who Held Up North End Storekeeper.

Boston, April 7.—Patrolman Martin E. McCarthy of the Hanover street station Thursday night arrested Thomas Manning, 19, a seaman, giving no address in Rutherford street, Manchester, N. H., with whom he engaged in an exchange of revolver shots in a small saloon on the corner of Lewis and Union streets, following a hold-up and robbery in the tobacco shop operated by Harry Saxe at 39 Atlantic street.

According to Saxe, Manning entered the store about 7 o'clock, walked up to a show case and asked for a certain kind of cigars. As Saxe reached into the case to get them, he found himself looking into the muzzle of a .25 calibre automatic revolver and was told to hand over the contents of the cash register and to be quiet.

The suddenness of the command so startled him that he stood staring at the man for a moment, and then asked: "Do you mean it?" Without waiting to answer, the robber vaulted the counter, ran in a "No sale" and fled. The girl, who is now in the hospital, was shocked by the act. The ring was given to the girl by her parents.

H., April 7.—The special term of the Merrimack county grand jury convened Tuesday and after disposing of a small list of criminal cases took up the case of Mrs. Martha Otterson of Hooksett, who is charged with the murder of her 10-year-old daughter, Maudie Otterson, in that town last November.

The Otterson case was not reached until after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the first witness was Sheriff Bert Worcester of this city, who arrested Mrs. Otterson, William Moor of the Manchester police, J. S. Silva, deputy chief of the local police department, and Victor J. Moore, assistant city marshal of this city, were the first witnesses called.

HUGGER JACK GIVEN A YEAR

Burlington, N. H., April 7.—Michael Wallcut, who admitted in Rutland city court Tuesday that he was the man who attacked Mrs. Josephine Avery, a nurse, early last Thursday morning, was sentenced to not less than a year nor more than a year and a half at hard labor at the state prison.

Wallcut had been under suspicion for several days that he was the Jack-the-Hugger from whom Mrs. Avery escaped. Three officers were put on the man's trail. The nurse, just having completed her training at New Haven, Conn., reached Rutland at 10 a. m. in that city. No taxi available. She was forced to walk, followed by three officers.

When he grabbed her arm and attempted to embrace her, she broke from him and ran, dropping half senseless on the piazza of the C. W. Pennington home.

BODIES OF 315 AMERICAN SOLDIERS COMING HOME

Transport Mercury will Leave Brest On Friday—Bodies From England Due Tomorrow

Brest, April 6.—The United States transport Mercury will leave Brest Friday with the bodies of 315 American soldiers who died in France.

New York, April 6.—The bodies of 315 American soldiers who died at base hospitals and camps in England will arrive here late tomorrow afternoon on board the navy transport Nausomond. It was announced today at the port of embarkation headquarters. Officers and a detail of men attached to the graves reclamation service have made preparations to receive the bodies. Their next of kin have been notified, and shipments to various points of destination will be promptly made.

The arrival of the Nausomond will bring to America the first of her soldier dead from either France or England. In anticipation of this movement the department here has set up a complete system for receiving, handling and shipping the bodies as they arrive and the movement will be carried out. It is announced, with the smallest delay possible.

Wood Has 55 Pledged Delegates

New York, April 6.—Colonel Thomas W. Miller, assistant Eastern manager of the Leonard Wood campaign committee, announced last night that four more delegates instructed for General Wood were chosen in Georgia yesterday. Two were pledged to him by the Ninth Congressional District, another at Marshallville and another in the Savannah convention. The count now is ninety-six actually pledged, or instructed, with 187 more "as good as pledged" making the count 283, out of a total of 341 thus far chosen.

On the eve of the Republican primaries in this State, Colonel Miller said that the Wood managers are entirely satisfied with the situation. "It is not the policy of the Republicans in this State to send an instructed delegation," said he, "and the Wood managers are content to put their case with the delegates ruling in the primaries who have the support of the regular Republican organization. With reference to the Wisconsin primary tomorrow I desire to say that the twenty-six delegates to be elected in that State are being contested by the regular organization and the 124 Politegan gang. General Wood is not involved in the primary, nor are any delegates being sent especially for him. The Wood managers will be content with the election of the regular Republican delegates in Wisconsin."

FREIGHT CARS IN COLLISION WITH ENGINE

Block Traffic in B. & M. Yard Early This Morning.

A string of freight cars and a switching locomotive were in collision about 4.30 this morning in the local freight yard of the Boston and Maine.

The accident occurred near the foot of Salem street and held up main line traffic east and west until about 9.30.

The switcher had backed some loaded cars on the main outward track and started to go in on a siding for more cars. While doing this the cars set out on the main line started down the grade and side-swiped the locomotive and a loaded coal car. Two cars were derailed and besides being in a position to block main line of the Portland division, came very near going onto the main line of the Portsmouth branch of the Southern division.

Owing to the Portsmouth wrecking train being out of commission, it was necessary to send a second class relief train from Boston to this city to clear the tracks.

Passengers and baggage on the 6.20 a. m. train for Boston were transferred around the wreck and into the train which brings the shipyard and navy yard employees from Newburyport to Portsmouth which made the run of the regular train to Boston.

The next train due to leave for Boston at 7.32 a. m. was coupled on with the 8.10 from Woffboro and the combination got away about 8.30.

Considerable damage occurred to the road bed and the several cars in the collision.

BOOZE AS A SPRING TONIC IS TABOOED

Tired Feeling Not Sufficient Ailment for Doctors to Issue Prescription.

Concord, April 6.—Under the new federal prohibition law, "general hesitancy" and "tired feeling" do not come under the head of ailments for which physicians may prescribe intoxicating liquors, according to a statement sent out by George W. Whitaker, federal prohibition director.

Mr. Whitaker states that while there is an evident desire on the part of a great majority of those receiving permits to comply with the law, there are those who are working hard to get around it.

The limitations of the physicians and others applying for permits is expressed emphatically in the following: "It is very gratifying in administering the permissive factors in the national prohibition act, to note the evident desire of a great majority of those receiving the various permits to comply with the plain intent of the act, which is to prevent all improper and injurious uses of intoxicating liquors and to further the cause of prohibition in short to prevent drunkenness and substitute therefor, since, sober living."

"Now while this is true, there is still a small, but very dangerous minority of permit holders, physicians, druggists, etc., who are yet nursing a vain hope, and striving to keep alive a lost cause."

"It was never the intention of either the New Hampshire legislature or the national Congress to transfer the nation and kitchen life from the basement and back-alley to the first and second floors and rename them drug stores and physicians' offices, and yet a brief three weeks of very inadequate administration in the office of federal prohibition director shows me beyond a doubt that there are physicians and there are druggists who expect to effect just such a substitute."

"There are physicians who, have written from 20 to 30 prescriptions for phos, or prior to Jan. 1, 1920, of whisky, brandy or rum in a day, and there are—were—others who have used up a 100 prescription book of blanks in less than a month."

"These facts come to us in two ways, first, by inspection of the books and records of the physicians or druggist, or both, and second from the monthly reports made by druggists showing day and date, patient, physician, kind and amount of liquor prescribed and sold."

"These positive features of the law and regulations, slowly, but surely, give us data on which to act."

"It may be well stated here as elsewhere that no physician who writes one hundred prescriptions for intoxicating liquors in a period of one month will ever legally write any more after the book has now been used up, for no new permits will be issued from this office. Now this does not mean that even half of one hundred will be sanctioned. There may be physicians with small practices for whom even ten prescriptions in one month in normal health conditions would be excessive and there may be cases when fifty would not be excessive, but the latter is very doubtful."

"Any physician writing in excess of 100 prescriptions in three months of normal times will have to show why another book should be issued."

"The law and regulations of the federal commission are plain, inflexible."

THE BEST ON EARTH Says Mrs. Staples of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I could not eat or sleep for six months, and fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the change of life I had the same trouble. I am seventy years old now and can do my own housework and walk five miles to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it."—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 157, School St., Taunton, Mass.

"The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such glowing letters to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once plagued with pain and illness. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, such as displacements, inflammation, and ulceration. Why don't you try it?"

"General hesitancy," "feeling of depression," "that tired feeling," "spring blues," etc., may serve to get the first-aid patron of the nation his first bottle of beer.

"No one questions the integrity of the medical profession as a whole or believes that a reputable physician will do a disreputable and illegal act, even though some self-prescribing patient takes the matter into his own hands and demands a prescription for one pint of liquor, but the medical life at this time is a sad one. The doctor who obeys the law and the best of their ability endeavor to reduce the era of drunkenness for which this state and nation has long been famous."

Sleeper shows a total number of judgments of 121, the greatest number of these being for breaching and entering, which was 17, the second highest being 13 for riot. The report of Sheriff Ceylan Slinney shows that the number of prisoners in jail at the last report was 12, number of prisoners committed during the past year was 74 males and three females.

The report of Supt. Fred Rand of the County farm shows that the number of hogs, and chickens at the institution on Jan. 1, 1919, was 17 male and 23 female, and during the year the number admitted was 62 male, and 25 female.

The commissioners, Norman H. Bogue of Portsmouth, George A. Carlisle of Dover, and William H. Whitcomb of Chester say in their report regarding the poor of the farm, that there has been employment for everybody looking for work, and that benefit of themselves (illuminated), nevertheless there is still the same number of old sick people, dependent soldiers, and their families, and the orphan children to be cared for, all at an increased expense.

The orphan children supported by Rockingham county in several institutions in the state, number over 60, and the rates of board have jumped twice the amount of a few years ago.

The new boiler for which the Legislature made an appropriation, in the Portsmouth court house, has given good satisfaction.

ROOSEVELT'S LETTERS TO ROYALTY

Colonel Roosevelt is shown in the role of a diplomatic letter writer to European Royalties, handling even the former Emperor of Germany to his will in freshly dictated correspondence edited by Joseph Dickinson Bishop, the late President's biographer, which will appear in April issue of Scribner's Magazine.

The correspondence includes letters to and replies from King Edward, Emperor Nicholas of Russia, the Emperor of Japan, Albert, King of Belgium and Queen Elizabeth of Romania in addition to the lengthy replies that passed between the colonel and the head of the Hohenzollerns. Writing on August 11, 1905, to Henry White, who was then American Ambassador at Rome, Colonel Roosevelt said:

"My course with him (Emperor William) during the last five years has been uniform. I admire him, respect him and like him. I think him a big man and on the whole a good man; but I think his international and indeed his personal attitude one of intense egotism. I have always been most polite with him, have done my best to avoid any taking any attitude which would possibly give him legitimate offense, and have endeavored to show him that I was sincerely friendly to him and to Germany. Moreover, when I have found him to give way I have been ardently anxious to build a bridge over gold possibility and to give him the satisfaction of feeling that his dignity and reputation in the face of the world were safe."

"In other words, when I have had to take part of the blame from him, I have been anxious that he should have all the credit possible, and have that said in a way which was not withheld at the same time I have had to speak with extreme emphasis to him on more than one occasion (that of Venezuela) have been a made a display of force and to convince him definitely that I would use the force if need be."

photographs showing himself and the Colonel astride magnificent horses at a maneuver of the German army. On the photograph picture he has written: "The Colonel of the Rough Riders becoming the Chief of the German Army." "Total agreement about the general abstinence of life and policy between America and Germany." "On the Mithberg, a grave discussion: Carnegie look out!" "The Chief of the Rough Riders for the honor of inspecting his troops. Mr. Carnegie, by the way, once had a credit account that Germany was building a strong fleet to attack the United States."

A letter the Colonel wrote to Edward VII of England on April 25, 1906, contains a reference to his Argentine Conference of his year, his international policy which at the time was said to have evoked a general admiration war. The biographer also tells the secret history of the conference which stands revealed in Roosevelt's correspondence and which is far too long for publication in the magazine, shows conclusively that it was arranged by Roosevelt, of the highest request of the Kaiser had Roosevelt drew up the terms of settlement which were adopted, and that he fully complied the Kaiser's wishes in an unwilling consent to them."

Roosevelt's influence with the ceremony and etiquette of courts found vigorous expression. Mr. Bishop says when he exclaimed, after describing his experiences with protocols of various languages at the funeral of King Edward, at which he represented the United States: "I felt if I met another king I should like him." Amused and delighted by the story, the king, displayed by the water of a petty king, dominated his prerogatives and the precedents to which he was entitled, Roosevelt at another time said, drawing upon his life for a simile: "He is reaching but a glittering way."

Mr. Bishop declared that in spite of the Venezuela episode of December, 1901, which must have been painful to the former President, their personal friendship and cordiality was not affected. He also sent the Colonel a number of

We Let You Know What The Chandler Price Is

THE Chandler Motor Car Company, ever since the first Chandler Car was built seven years ago, has, in every advertisement issued to newspapers and magazines and all other forms of publications, stated the list price of the Chandler Car.

It states it now, and will continue to do so. There is good reason for this and many thousands of motor car owners know it. This is the reason--The Chandler Six is the most closely priced fine car in the whole medium priced field.

Look through the pages of this paper or a magazine that may be lying on your table. There are probably from ten to twenty automobile advertisements. How many name the price of the car?

True, the cost of automobile production has increased in the past year, and is still increasing. But the Chandler Company, throughout 1919, with all its production greatly oversold, held to its price.

The Chandler Six of today is a highly perfected development of the Chandler Six of seven years ago, which started the trend toward lightweight sixes. All the engineering skill and production efficiency at the command of the Chandler Company has been devoted to this one chassis and that fact is one of the reasons for the Chandler's leadership in its field today.

ALL CHANDLER BODIES ARE MOUNTED ON THE ONE STANDARD CHANDLER CHASSIS. ## DEATH SENTENCE WAITING FOR SZCZEPANEK

Man Who Killed Two People in Newburyport Is Supposed to Be in Italy.

The Massachusetts supreme court in a decision of the full bench, says that Antonio J. Szczepanek must accept the penalty of the superior court for having committed a double murder in Newburyport on December 10, 1917, but as far as the superior court is concerned there is no Szczepanek upon whom sentence shall be passed, for he has long since made his escape and is now of parts unknown.

Szczepanek became a fugitive from the Danvers Insane hospital, to which he was admitted following the report of the jury that he was guilty of murder in the first degree, and while awaiting decision on exceptions, his lawyer carried to the full court for final determination.

It is believed that he fled to Italy where he was in some expatriated agreement did not lie.

Szczepanek was a carpenter in the employ of Michael Spivey. On one occasion he saw his employee place $1700 in a room in the house. On the day of the murder Szczepanek went to the Spivey home and as a ruse to gain admission told Anna Spivey, the carpenter's wife that he had been sent to get a certain board which was in the cellar.

Mrs. Spivey accompanied Szczepanek to the cellar and while there he struck her on the head with an axe, killing her. After delivering the fatal blow, he went upstairs to get the money but encountered Wladislaw Hill, a child of six years. He killed this child and then left the house.

THE ISLAND OF CU-RAS-SO

(They want the Kaiser sent to the island of Curacao in the Caribbean Sea, 11 miles off the coast of Venezuela.)

There is a place where bad men go. It is to the Isle of Cu-ras-so. When wars have failed, while in desolate they always found a refuge there. Where they can plot and plot and then can start another war again. Now Kaiser Bill wishes to go Down to the Isle of Cu-ras-so.

So full of his ilk, so near the mainland, The years he'd pull-off would be something grand. In German camps (we understand) In order of the Kaiser.

All of our statesmen surely know Bill would have a fine chance at Cu-ras-so. And gold-dust in heaps in folks' eyes he would throw. From his capitol-sanatorium at Cu-ras-so.

Those southern republics are too good a Bill. To eat for you supper, O Kaiser Bill! We say it now: "Don't let him go To scheme on the Island of Cu-ras-so."

ENGLAND AFTER FOREIGN SPIES

London, April 6.—The British government is taking steps to restrict the operations in England of spies from foreign countries. The House of Commons has just adopted anti-spy regulations at the request of Sir Ernest Balfour, the solicitor general, who told the members of the House that information was now being collected here for foreign governments and that this might be stopped for the sake of the country's safety.

"Spies are active in this country every day," said Brigadier General Cockerill, director of Special Intelligence of the War Office.

NEWFIELDS MAN IS EIGHTY - YEARS OLD

During Civil War Jeremiah
Towle Was Employed as Ship Carpenter on Navy Yard.

Jeremiah Towle, of Newfields, on Monday arrived at his 80th birthday. Mr. Towle has been a citizen there for more than a half century and during that period, has gained a wide acquaintance throughout Rockingham county from his close connection with the Republican party. He has probably attended more political conventions of the old state than any other citizen in the county.

He is one of the few of the original 93 who voted in the Republican caucus in White's open house at Concord, for the nomination of the late Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, when he was elected to his long term in the United States Senate by the legislature of 1891.

He was an intimate friend of the late Congressman Cyrus A. Sullivan, and has attended many congressional conventions to cast a vote for him. Mr. Towle is a native of Newington, where he spent his boyhood and early manhood. He has voted for every Republican President and presidential nominee since President Lincoln.

He is probably one of the few remaining who saw President James K. Polk during his visit to Portsmouth, an interesting anecdote being told by him when he saw the Chief Executive from his mother's arms. He was held up above the crowd to get a look at the President, and, upon seeing him, remarked "Why, he's nothing but a man!"

for the child, expected to see a brilliantly adorned king or something that he had never before seen.

As a young man, he learned the carpenter's trade and was for many years connected as a workman, at the old Swanwick Machine company, of South Newmarket, now Newfields.

During the Civil war he worked as a ship carpenter on many of the war ships built at the Portsmouth navy yard. Mr. Towle is now president of the Newfields Republican club, and has for more than 60 years served as an officer in it in some capacity, he being one of the chief organizers of the old Lincoln club in 1889, which enrolled many boys, who later became staunch Republicans.

His interest in state and national politics is still keen, and he is one of the enthusiastic supporters of Hon. Albert O. Brown of Manchester for governor.

The veteran citizen retains a wonderful memory of historical events, the Mexican war being a vivid recollection, and he tells of remembering the "Twenty boys, and Jeff" Hill, soldiers from his native town, march away to fight against the Mexicans, and of hearing the news of the battle of Thermopylae when he was a small boy weeding in the garden, while his father and neighbors were hoeing corn in the same lot.

A passing neighbor on his way home from Portsmouth brought the news, and he also told of the number of Americans killed, which made a lasting impression on his young mind.

Mr. Towle retains good health, and keeps young by associating with the young people or "children" as he calls them.

Many congratulations from friends were received yesterday, among the number being a birthday cake from Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tarleton, a custom which they have never failed to observe for many years.

His wife, who was a descendant of Governor Vaughn, died two years ago, and he now lives alone.

UNPREPAREDNESS PROVED COSTLY

Declares Senator Wadsworth,
Opening Discussion of Army Bill in Senate.

Washington, April 6.—Unpreparedness on the part of the United States was directly responsible for "fearful extravagances" in lives and money, Senator Wadsworth, republican, of New York said today in opening discussion on the army reorganization bill submitted by the senate military committee. Defending the committee plan for training boys between the ages of 18 and 21 years, Senator Wadsworth declared it was unfair to ask the veterans of the great war to continue to fill the role of defenders of the country, which was rightfully the duty of their "successors in age."

The bill, the New York senator said, sets up a military policy which emphasizes the dependence of the country on the private soldier the prior training, which experience shows, is necessary "so that when he goes into battle, he may have a decent chance for his life."

Estimates that more than a billion dollars would be required annually for compulsory training were contradicted by Senator Wadsworth who said the ultimate cost would not exceed $651,000,000. Provisions for a graduated reduction in the size of the permanent standing army from 280,000 enlisted men and 17,000 officers to 201,000 men and 15,000 officers in five years he believed, would make the cost compulsory military training approximately equal that necessary for the operation of the house bill which calls for a permanent army of 305,000 enlisted men and 17,000 officers.

The chairman said the reorganization bill proposed by the general staff "violated our democratic institutions" while under the committee's bill it would be possible to give a "democratic and economic army" as well.

Another bill providing for the reorganization of the army and the establishment of a national military policy already has been passed by the house which, however, eliminated entirely the universal training sections.

SAILOR BREAKS WINDOW WITH HAND

A sailor with an eighteen cent jag, caused all kinds of trouble on Congress street shortly before six o'clock Tuesday evening. He had drunk something that gave him a fighting jag and he opened by pushing his hand through a plate glass window of the Pauls Brothers on Congress street and then offering to take on anybody in the crowd that gathered for a finished fight. He had severely cut his hand and was bleeding freely, when officer Hewitt arrived in the police wagon. He put up a stiff fight but was finally subdued and hustled into the wagon and taken to the station. Dr. Pender was called and dressed the wound in his hand, which severed some muscles and he was taken to the Naval hospital where he could be taken care of.

The Daring Test made by Thomas A. Edison

This drawing is from an actual photograph. It shows the memorable scene in November 25th, in the State Armory at Albany, when Mr. Edison made the test which was heralded all over the country as marking a new epoch in music. Six thousand teachers, principals and officials of New York State public schools, sat spell-bound as they heard Mario Laurenti, world-famed baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sing in direct comparison with the New Edison Re-Creation of his magnificent voice.

Laurenti stood beside the New Edison. His voice filled the auditorium. The audience surrendered itself to the baritone's inspired artistry. Suddenly there was a stir, a perplexed rubbing of eyes. Laurenti's voice, undiminished in quality and beauty, continued to reach every corner of the vast auditorium, but his lips had ceased to move. The cabinet at his side had taken up the song, and was matching his voice so perfectly that the human ear was not aware that Laurenti had ceased to sing.

By a test, as convincing as it was daring, the New Edison proved that its Re-Creation of music had attained perfect realism.
